TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Rory Gordon of Good London Builders provided invaluable help and advice for our works. In December 2011 we decided quickly to have our loft converted into an en suite double bedroom, and a new kitchen. This was a hurried decision as we were expecting a second child in June 2012. Rory quickly put together a team of planning consultant, structural engineer and surveyor, and party wall surveyor to get the ball rolling so that we are on schedule to complete the works in time. All the parties he instructed were highly competent and efficient. In addition, Rory flagged and addressed issues regarding all aspects of the project that could crop up later to avoid delays down the line, which saved us time and money.
